

Ingalls Rehabilitation Services at Providence of South Holland

Providence Healthcare and Rehabilitation Center in South Holland has teamed up with Ingalls Health System to help short-term rehab patients get home and back to their lives safely, and as soon as possible.

The rehab experts from Ingalls provide physical, occupational, and speech therapy, as well as wound care.

Every patient gets multiple sessions with a therapist each week. They also receive expert follow-up care from Physiatrist Dr. Ahmed Elgamal, who is on-site three days a week. The team works together to track progress, address any pain management issues and set clear rehab goals. Providence offers a fully-equipped rehab gym and has all the tools necessary to help people get better faster.

Physicians who refer patients to Providence for rehabilitation can expect improved information sharing, consistent care delivery, and physician continuity. This includes:

- ✿ Physical and Occupational Therapy evaluation of orthopedic patients within 24 hours of admission
- ✿ Physical and occupational therapy services available 7 days a week
- ✿ Cross training of Providence nursing staff at Ingalls
- ✿ Shared therapy pathways between Ingalls and Providence
  - On-site psychiatry services
  - On-site wound care physician services
- ✿ Continuity of physician coverage between facilities
- ✿ “Fast Track” length-of-stay philosophy for orthopedic patient population
